OCALA, FLORIDA, FRIDAY, MAY 1, 1908

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

Local and Personal

Mr. W. J. Akins represented Pedro in Ocala on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pillars of Electra, spent Friday in Ocala.

Mr. J. D. Blaine is in Tampa for a short visit.

Miss Frances Liddon gave her little friends a very enjoyable party on Friday afternoon.

Mr. William T. Gary has been in Brooksville for several days past on business.

Mr. Robert Ferguson of Berlin spent Saturday in town, having come in to attend the unveiling ceremonies.

Mrs. L. J. Parr has gone to Lakeland to visit her daughter, Mrs. Overby, for a few weeks.

Miss Claudia Miller, a former much liked teacher in the Ocala High School, is here on a visit to her relatives, Col. L. P. Miller and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Tiller of Martin were prominent visitors in Ocala Saturday and witnessed the unveiling of the Confederate monument.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Camp have gone to Europe, where they expect to remain for a couple of years.

Mr. Henry W. Long of Martel and Mr. C. Y. Miller of Leroy were here Saturday to attend the unveiling of the Confederate monument.

Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Lindner of Anthony are very happy over the arrival of a lovely little daughter at their home a few days ago.

Mr. Clawson, proprietor of the beautiful Lake Weir hotel at Weirsdale, after a most successful season, has gone to his home in the north for the summer.

The Toffaletti building has been rented. Shelving and other furniture and fixtures are now being placed in it. It will be occupied by George Samia.

Mr. Robert Sanders, one of the progressive and enterprising citizens of Dunnellon, came up Friday to bring his mother to be present at the dedication of the Confederate monument Saturday.

Mrs. Will Carlton of Jacksonville continues to be very ill with typhoid fever at the Carlton House in this city. Mrs. Carlton is a sister of Messrs. W. D., J. M. and A. A. Graham of this city.

Hon. and Mrs. E. L. Wartmann, who came down on Friday for the unveiling ceremonies, drove back to their Citra home Saturday afternoon. While in the city they were the guests of Mrs. R. G. Blake.

Mr. William Storm, a former resident of Ocala, recently died at Lakeland. Mr. Storm will be remembered as having married Mrs. W. B. Holly, a blind lady of this city. Mr. Storm was also a citizen of Citra for a number of years.

Mr. J. H. Reese, associate editor of the Tallahassee Sun, is a candidate for a delegate to the Denver convention. He is a "bright, particular star in the journalistic firmament," and we hope that the choice may fall on him. He will make the state a creditable representative. We hope our friends will put in a vote for him.

Capt. L. M. Graham of Connor, Mr. D. H. J. Simmons of Wacahoota, Mr. D. B. Irvine of Orange Lake, Mr. H. C. Morrison of Stanton, Major J. K. Priest of Eureka and Mr. John Pasteur of Stanton, members of the camp of Confederate Veterans of this city, came in Friday to be present at the unveiling ceremonies Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Harris and their beautiful little son, Lindner, spent Saturday afternoon in Ocala. They drove in from Anthony. Mrs. Harris and her little son have been at Anthony for a week, the guests of the former's brother, Dr. E. G. Lindner. Mr. Harris joined them Saturday, and they leave for their home in Valdosta, Ga., Monday.

I live for those who love me,
For those who know me true,
For the heaven that smiles above me,
And awaits my spirit, too;
For the cause that lacks assistance,
For the wrong that needs resistance,
For the future in the distance,
And the good that I can do.

IN MEMORIAM

A Beautiful Granite Monument Dedicated to the Memory of the South's Heroes by Dickison Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy With Imposing Ceremonies and Interesting and Heart Touching Eulogies.
The Daughters Decorate the Shaft and Present Their Beloved President With Badge of Honor, Saturday was a day of great expectations to the people of Ocala, and was looked forward to with keen interest and anticipation by the members of Dickison Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Confederate Veterans, and the citizens generally, for it was the day set apart for the unveiling of the Confederate monument, which was recently erected in this city through the untiring efforts of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

As far as we can ascertain, to Mrs. Edward Badger is due the honor of first suggesting the erection of this monument, and her brother, Mr. James H. Badger, was the first one to make a contribution towards it.

Mrs. Badger's suggestion found a quick and ready response among her comrades of Dickison Chapter, and all the members became instantly alert and enthusiastic. Committees were appointed, and from that time until all the necessary funds were collected there was maintained upon the part of the organization an unflagging untiring and devoted interest.

Mrs. Gary, the honored, revered and beloved head of the organization, was thoroughly enlisted in the cause and aroused an enthusiasm which was quickly communicated to all the other members, and the erection of the monument became a foregone conclusion, for in the vocabulary of the Daughters of the Confederacy there is no such word as fail.

In a matter in which all were so enthusiastic and which has culminated so happily, we do not wish to make invidious distinctions, but cannot refrain from saying that Mrs. R. G. Blake, the efficient vice president of the chapter, Mrs. J. H. Livingston, Sr., Mrs. E. L. Carney, Mrs. James R. Moorhead and Mrs. E. P. Moody worked so unremittingly and were so successful in their collections that they are deserving of special mention.

To the genius of Mrs. Gary belongs the honor of inspiring the beautiful and appropriate inscription.

We are glad to present elsewhere in this issue a picture of the monument.

Names of those Who Contributed Towards Its Erection

The following is an incomplete list of those who made money contributions towards the erection of the monument. The book containing the name of every contributor was lost in the fire at the time Mrs. Gary's house was destroyed. The list we print is made out from memory, and there may be some omissions:

The unveiling ceremonies were largely attended. There was nearly a full attendance of the local camp of Confederate Veterans, headed by its esteemed commander Mr. L. M. Graham, of Connor. There were likewise quite a number of visiting comrades.

The members of Dickison Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy, led by their venerable and beloved president, Mrs. Fannie R. Gary, were out in full force.

The Ocala Rifles attended the ceremonies in a body, wearing their full military regalia. Ocala's splendid band furnished patriotic and inspiring music for this memorable occasion.

The teachers and pupils of the Ocala High School graced the occasion with their presence, and attended in a body.

At half past ten o'clock the Confederate Veterans met at the council chamber, and were joined by the Daughters of the Confederacy and the other organizations, and formed a line of march and proceeded to the court house grounds in the following order:

The Ocala Metropolitan Band.
The Ocala Rifles.
Confederate Veterans.
Daughters of the Confederacy.
School teachers.
School children.
Citizens.

Arriving at the monument there was music by the band, after which Mr. Frank Harris, master of ceremonies, called on Dr. W. H. Dodge of the Presbyterian church, to invoke the divine blessing on the assembled throng.

Dr. Dodge's invocation was a masterful effort and did great credit to its author and the occasion. It was not only a patriotic prayer, but a most chaste and beautiful one, and fell upon the audience like the dew of Herman.

Mr. Harris, in introducing the orator of the day, made the following remarks:

Dickison Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy, Confederate Veterans, Ladies, Gentlemen and Fellow Citizens:

Holy writ proclaims that a "prophet is not without honor save in his own country and in his own household."

Stated in another form, it might be rendered thus: "A citizen is seldom honored in his own community and among his own people."

I am extremely proud of the fact that I form an exception to this very general rule.

The men and the women of this community, and especially the women, have on many occasions been more than kind to me, and insist on honoring me more than my merits deserve.

I wish here and now to thank them for the partiality they have so uniformly shown me, and I want it to be distinctly known that I feel it no little honor in being selected to preside over a meeting of this significance.

We are assembled here to dedicate a monument to those who shouldered their muskets and showed a readiness to lay down their lives if need be at their country's call.

"Greater love," says the Good Book, "hath no man than to lay down his life for a friend," and to lay down one's life on the altar of one's country, is the world's conception of patriotism in its highest and most exalted form.

The act of participation in these ceremonies does not necessarily commit us to the glorification nor deification of war, nor is it our purpose to bequeath to the generations that are to follow after us the spirit or animus of war.

Life is full of paradoxes. We do things every day of our lives that we had rather not do—we chastise those we love best, not to stimulate in us the chastising spirit, but for the sole purpose that good may follow.

When we slay bird or beast, we rob

THE NINE O'CLOCK GERMAN CLUB GIVES BEAUTIFUL PARTY

The largest, and probably one of the most enjoyable card parties ever given in Ocala was that of the Nine O'clock German Club at the Ocala House on Friday evening.

Instead of giving their regular Easter German this club of our young society men planned a card party instead, and their efforts resulted in a very splendid evening's entertainment for their friends.

Messrs. O. B. Howse and J. H. Taylor were the committee on arrangements, and this large affair passed off very delightfully.

Mr. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, Mr. Howse and Miss Porter and Mr. C. H. Lloyd, president of the German Club, and Mrs. Lloyd received the club members and their guests.

Over the mantels and entwined around the electroliers were sprays of the most perfect bamboo vines that have ever been seen in this city, and vases of roses and Easter lilies also graced the mantels.

There were two punch bowls, the punch being served by Misses Hope Robinson and Elizabeth Newsom.

In the large parlor of the hotel were arranged eighteen tables, which were filled by seventy-two merry players. The score cards were particularly attractive ones, having been gotten especially for this party. They were marked by Misses Jean Teague and Sara Davis.

Mrs. Austin won the ladies' prize, a very lovely cut glass violet jar, and Mr. Helvenston was awarded a very handsome silver knife for winning the biggest score among the gentlemen.

The large crowd present was beautifully managed, and the young men deserve a great deal of credit for their lovely Easter party.

The players were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Chazal, Mrs. Cullen, Mrs. McKean, Mrs. Looney, Mr. and Mrs. Holder, Mr. and Mrs. Maughis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jewett, Mr. and Mrs. James Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller, Mrs. Sam Dell, Mrs. McCollum, Mr. and Mrs. Helvenston, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clark, Mrs. Maloney, Mr. and Mrs. Weathers, Mr. and Mrs. Rheinauer Mrs. Austin, Mrs. Carney, Mrs. R. T. Adams, Mrs. Koonce, Misses Mabel and Edith Taylor, Walker, Dye, Simmons, Hatchell, Liddon, Pansy Souter, Weathers, Potter, Porter, Mathews, Atkinson, Harris, Hendon, Robinson, Sullivan, Standley, Eagleton, and Messrs. Howard and Harry Walters, Pelet, Stephen Jewett, Frank Harris, Jr., Sullivan, Workman, Robinson, W. D. Taylor, Howse, Crook, Waterman, Mathews, Ford and Vernie Stevens.

MRS. KNIGHT'S CARD PARTY

Mrs. L. James Knight, who is one of Ocala's most charming young matrons, gave a delightful little card party Saturday morning from nine to eleven o'clock for her sister, Mrs. J. W. McCollum, and Mesdames Sam and James Dell of Gainesville. There were three tables of congenial young matrons playing whist, and the party was just one of the jolliest and most informal ones possible. Mrs. Knight being a most enviable hostess and her honor guests three particularly delightful young women.

Besides the honor guests, those playing cards were Mrs. Frank L. Watson of Jacksonville, Mrs. G. R. McKean, Mrs. C. V. Miller, Mrs. Lee Miller, Mrs. Arthur Clark, Miss May Turnley, Mrs. Charles H. Lloyd, Mrs. Mallory Liddon and Mrs. Richard S. Hall. Mrs. William Knight and Mrs. W. D. Richey marked the scores.

After the games a very dainty little luncheon was served, the Confederate colors of red and white being used in the refreshments. Besides delicious chicken salad, there were red and white sandwiches, also, pimientos being used with the bread, and sliced tomatoes with the white wafers.

There were no prizes given, but a lovely little hand-embroidered chafing dish apron was drawn for by all the guests, this pretty souvenir falling to the lot of Mrs. Hall.

After the party the crowd attended the unveiling ceremonies.

In mentioning a list of ladies who are deserving of special mention in securing funds for the erection of the Confederate monument we unintentionally omitted the name of Mrs. J. E. Bailey. No one was more unremitting in her labors or more enthusiastic for the success of the monument.

LOST—Between Citra and Reddick, bird dog, four months old; white with liver colored spots. Liberal reward for return to J. S. McAllister, Citra, Fla., or any merchant in Reddick. $10.00.
